WELCOME

Cinemagic Chief Executive

I am extremely proud to launch the 37th Cinemagic International Film & Television Festival for Young People. We warmly welcome all our audiences and visitors who are set to enjoy a vibrant programme of film opportunities in Belfast.

The Cinemagic Festival presents incredible, thought-provoking films, that are the very best of contemporary cinema for young people, and we are delighted to secure exclusive previews and premieres for our audiences. I encourage you to join our special workshops, talks, masterclasses, film juries and educational events and to celebrate emerging talent from the UK and Ireland at the Young Filmmaker Competition weekend.

The unifying power of the screen industries is evident through our work with young people from all over the world, from Northern Ireland, and The Republic of Ireland, to Los Angeles, Jordan and most recently Barbados, where we utilise film to stimulate discussion and to bring people from different backgrounds together.

Cinemagic is passionate about building inclusive communities and providing inspiring opportunities through skills development academies, cultural film exhibition and film production and outreach programmes.

Heartfelt thanks to our funders, sponsors, partners, patrons and board members who are dedicated to the ethos of Cinemagic, to make a positive difference in the lives of young people. A special thank you to the dedicated staff at Cinemagic, Chris, Claire, Laura, Kali, Kerri and all the volunteers for all their hard work, energy, enthusiasm and creativity.

See you at the Festival.

Joan Burney Keatings MBE
Cinemagic Chief Executive

Chair, Cinemagic Belfast

As Chair of Cinemagic, I'm thrilled to support the 37th Cinemagic International Film and Television Festival for Young People and celebrate the remarkable opportunities it creates for young people across Belfast and further afield.

For almost four decades, Cinemagic has inspired creativity, nurtured talent, and encouraged young people to explore the world of film, television, and digital media. Through an engaging programme of screenings, workshops, masterclasses, and industry-led experiences, the festival encourages participants to develop new skills, build confidence, and explore exciting pathways into creative industries.

Supporting young people to achieve their full potential is something I am deeply passionate about in my role as Chief People and Marketing Officer at Belfast City Airport, and I'm proud that our longstanding partnership with Cinemagic continues to have a positive impact for so many across our community.

I have witnessed firsthand the difference Cinemagic makes in the lives of young people, empowering them to tell their stories, broaden their horizons, and believe in their abilities.

It is a privilege to serve as Chair, and to support an organisation that continues to inspire the next generation of creative talent.

Michelle Hatfield
Chair, Cinemagic Belfast

MESSAGES OF SUPPORT

Lord Mayor of Belfast

We're delighted to welcome the return of the Cinemagic International Film and Television Festival for Young People – a much-loved annual event that continues to make arts and culture accessible to audiences across Belfast and beyond.

Tá féiltí mar seo rithábhachtach lena gcuid uileghabhálachta agus leis na deiseanna a cruthaítear do dhaoine óga. Eispéireas ar leith atá ann chun scileanna a fhoghlaim, scéaltaí difriúla a chloisint agus an domhan a thaiscéaladh.

Once again, this year's packed programme showcases the power of film to educate, entertain and inspire. From family favourites and world cinema to industry masterclasses, filmmaker showcases and opportunities for young film critics, Cinemagic creates memorable experiences for audiences of all ages while celebrating diverse voices and storytelling from across the globe.

Mar Ard-Mhéara Bhéal Feirste, one of my key priorities is celebrating young people and creating opportunities for them to develop their talents, pursue their ambitions and fulfil their potential.

Ní hamháin ó thaobh scileanna agus táithí ach go bhfuil bealach acu a gcuid scéaltaí a insint agus a thairgeadh. Tá dearcadh ar leith ag daoine óga agus tá a dtuairimí fiorthábhachtach agus muid ag pleanáil don todhchaí.

Cinemagic plays an important role in nurturing the next generation of creativity, whilst shining a spotlight on the wealth of home-grown talent that continues to strengthen our screen and creative industries. I'm proud that Belfast is home to a festival that champions creativity, inclusion and opportunity and I warmly encourage you to explore, enjoy and be inspired by this year's fantastic programme.

Tá mé chomh bródúil as an chathair seo, áit ina bhfuil deiseanna chun rudaí úra a chruthú agus a fhorbairt. Comhghairdeas ollmhór leis an chlár seo a chur le chéile agus guim gach rath oraibh!

Councillor Róis-Maire Donnelly
Lord Mayor of Belfast

Minister for Communities

As Cinemagic returns with another exciting festival programme, I am proud to provide my continued support to an event that brings inspiration, creativity and opportunity to young people across our communities.

Each year, Cinemagic brings young audiences and aspiring filmmakers together to develop and nurture skills, engage with the creative industries, and experience the power of film to broaden horizons and foster understanding. It showcases emerging talent from Northern Ireland and beyond, supporting our film industry and providing an important platform for both local and global stories.

As Minister for Communities, I am committed to increasing opportunity, tackling disadvantage and supporting communities where everyone can thrive. Cinemagic contributes to these aims by ensuring that young people, regardless of their circumstances, can access quality cultural experiences, develop their talents and realise their potential.

The Young Audiences Supporting Foodbanks initiative also demonstrates how culture can inspire positive social action. By encouraging young people to respond to need within their communities, the programme has helped to provide over 20,000 meals to those facing difficult circumstances. At this milestone, I would like to acknowledge the contribution of the Cinemagic team and those who have participated. Your generosity and support have made a real difference to local individuals and families.

As the 2026 festival begins, I wish everyone involved every success and hope it continues to inspire young people, celebrate creativity and strengthen communities across Northern Ireland.

Gordon Lyons MLA
Minister for Communities
